To build the most effective force for 2020, we must be fully joint: intellectually, operationally, organizationally, doctrinally, and technically.

General Henry H. Shelton
Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff
Joint Vision 2020

Separate ground, sea and air warfare is gone forever. If ever again we should be involved in war, we will fight it in all elements, with all services, as one single concentrated effort.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower
Special Message to Congress, April 3, 1958

Joint warfare is team warfare.

Joint Pub 1

purple-suiter—An officer assigned to duty on a staff where no particular service predominates. This may be a joint staff, where all services cooperate, or a combined staff, where two or more allied nations participate. He is called purple because he loses the identity (and color) of his particular service, and the color purple is not used by any of the services. The official colors are green for Army, blue for Air Force, and white for Navy.

A Dictionary of Soldier Talk, p. 245.

joint—Connotes activities, operations, organizations, etc., in which elements of more than one Service of the same nation participate.

Department of Defense Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms, p. 196.

Preface

To assist researchers in a better understanding of how the United States armed services work together, the U.S. Army War College Library presents Jointness: A Selected Bibliography.

A revised and updated version of our earlier bibliographies on jointness, this listing generally includes materials published since 1996. It focuses on various aspects of jointness such as joint operations, joint logistics, interservice cooperation, interservice rivalry, joint communications, Goldwater-Nichols, and the Organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

All items included in this bibliography are available in the U.S. Army War College Library. For your convenience, we have added our call numbers at the end of each entry. (Call numbers indicate the item's shelf location.) Please keep in mind that call numbers may vary from library to library.

This bibliography is also available on the Internet through our Library's home page:

Joint Publications

The Library's Official Military Publications File contains an extensive collection of numbered joint publications which are not cited in this bibliography. Also, many joint, allied and Service doctrine publications, joint terminology, and joint education research materials are available electronically through the Joint Electronic Library (JEL) database. Reference librarians will assist researchers in using these resources.

Selected Internet Sites

JCS Link <<http://www.dtic.mil:80/jcs>>

Provides links to the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Joint Staff, and America's combatant commands.

Joint Doctrine <<http://www.dtic.mil/doctrine>>

Designed to make joint doctrine accessible and to foster debate on doctrinal issues.

Joint Electronic Library <<http://www.dtic.mil/doctrine/jel>>

Access to approved joint doctrine publications, joint terminology, and more.

Interactive CD-ROM

U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. Joint Staff. J-7. Joint Force Employment. Multi-media CD-ROM. Washington: Semi Logic Entertainments, 2000. Includes User Manual. (UA23.7 .J67 2000)
Designed and developed to enhance knowledge of joint doctrine within the United States military. User is placed in the role of a joint force commander, and is taken through the six phases of CAP (crisis action plan) for a particular crisis, introduced to the joint doctrine employment concepts in play in the scenario, and assigned mission.
